

Help Out on State Natural Areas

Devil's Lake Workday

Like Devil's Lake State Park? Help us take care of it by cutting and treating invasive buckthorn at the top of East Bluff. Use hand tools to cut these small trees and move them to areas to stop user trails and learn about natural history in the process. This will help the understory plants continue to thrive in the prairie and glade areas. Physical fitness required- be prepared to walk up and down the steep balanced rock trail once. This workday is a partnership between REI, Natural Resources Foundation of Wisconsin, and SNA Volunteers. No skills needed you will be trained onsite.

Date: October 27

Time: 9-noon

Directions: Meet at the red cedar shelter on the south shore.
Google map.

What to wear: Dress for the weather and wear clothes that are OK to get beat up, long pants, long sleeves, gloves (we will have extra), sturdy footwear, safety glasses (we will have extra).

What to bring: Drinking water, loppers (we will have extra)

Cancellation plan: The workday will go on unless there is pouring rain. RSVP to receive any cancellation.

RSVP info: Equipment is limited, please RSVP. If you plan to join please email Jared at jared.urban@wisconsin.gov. Cell phone day of is 608-228-4349.

Treating invasive brush

